339: Kennet Lekko / THAT AWKWARD MOMENT nr. 15 (I miss) (2021)

Kennet Lekko (b. 1992) is an artist from Tallinn, Estonia, living and working in Berlin.

Often starting from autobiographical observations and personal topics, the work of Kennet Lekko addresses issues and questions everybody can connect with in their own way, making the personal relatable. While individual experiences differ, the big questions about finding meaning in life, dealing with loss, having hopes and disappointments is universal. In a similar manner the painting I miss who I thought I was, while coming from personal regrets, sets the viewer on a path of introspection and nostalgia towards something or someone that might have never been.
